Krilogy is a wealth management firm based in St. Louis since 2009 with more than $1.7 billion in assets. The company is listed among the nation's fastest growing companies by Inc. 5000.

To accommodate its continuing growth, Krilogy recently relocated its headquarters and 60 team members to a new corporate office space. The two-story, 26,000 square foot office building houses Krilogy's wealth management teams and investment advisory group. The building features "The Krilogy Café," an area where team members host clients for morning coffee or an afternoon drink.

Color Art Construction has served as Krilogy's construction partner for several years, having completed earlier renovations at its Emerson Road location before this new relocation project.

Kent Skornia, Krilogy President and CEO, says of the newly unveiled office, "I look forward to our next chapter in a new space that will serve as a welcoming environment for clients, a collaborative workspace for the team and a convenient destination for all."
