The Journey Church is a rapidly growing congregation in the St. Louis metropolitan area with five locations: University City, Tower Grove, West County, South County and Belleville, Illinois. Color Art Construction has served The Journey Church as its construction partner for two significant expansions.

The first of these projects transformed an existing synagogue into a new church for The Journey Hanley Road. The sanctuary features timber structural frames, a wood ceiling and stained glass walls. Warm, natural daylight and unique lighting elements highlight the architectural features and millwork of the worship area.

The Journey West County enjoys its reputation as a welcoming place for families and kids. With a need to elevate its programming for youth, the church embarked on a capital campaign in 2019 to support a new facility to serve its younger members.

The Journey Student Center is a free-standing building featuring a large multi-purpose worship room, three meeting rooms and a small counseling area. The interior spaces are organized as a main level recreation room with mezzanine-level meeting rooms and office spaces. Physical separation from the main church building allows easier access for groups and also privacy when needed.
